Contractor ID: 236	Audit Date: January 12, 2026
Category: greyRich	Google Reviews: 203

Section 1: Council Verdict

73

Risk Level: MODERATE

Recommendation: NOT_RECOMMENDED

No summary available.

Section 2: Three Persona Analysis

Consumer Advocate N/A Confidence: N/A Reasoning: The contractor presents a strong public-facing profile with high ratings (Google 4.8/5, Yelp 4.9/5, BBB A+), BBB accreditation, and a significant volume of positive reviews. However, a skeptical investigation reveals several significant concerns that undermine this positive image. 1)	Fair Arbiter N/A Confidence: N/A Reasoning: The evidence presents a contractor with strong positive signals but also some legitimate concerns that require charitable interpretation. On the positive side: 1) BBB A+ rating with accreditation (accredited 1/28/2025) and zero complaints in their system indicates professional complaint	Synthesizer N/A Reasoning: No dialectic audit data available. Stronger Case: N/A

Inconsistent Business History: The website claims '15 Years of Excellence' and establishment in 2016, but the BBB profile shows a founding date of May 29, 2019. This is a direct contradiction that calls into question the company's honesty about its experience and longevity.

2) Evidence of Legal/Regulatory Issues: An OSHA inspection record exists (Inspection #126107564), indicating a workplace safety incident that triggered a regulatory review. While the outcome is unknown, its presence is a red flag. Furthermore, a Google News search result links to a legal document ('ABP CONSTRUCTION SERVICES LLC AND ERIC CHATELAIN VS. MICHAEL BRADLEY EGGERTON...'), suggesting the company has been involved in civil litigation.

3) Pattern of Specific Complaints: The REVIEW_ANALYSIS summary, while concluding reviews are authentic, explicitly notes complaint patterns including 'Insurance payment disputes', 'Alleged corner-cutting', and 'Aggressive/unprofessional communication from handling and commitment to BBB standards.

2) Google Maps shows 202 reviews with a 4.8 average rating - this volume suggests substantial customer experience and the high rating indicates satisfaction.

3) Yelp shows 4.9 rating with 36 reviews, consistent with Google data.

4) The business has been operating since at least 2019 (BBB founding date) with Texas franchise tax registration (taxpayer number 32070883916), establishing legitimacy.

5) Review analysis indicates authenticity with specific project details, multiple employee mentions, and repeat customers.

6) No liens found (score 10/10) and no court cases discovered in four counties searched, though court searches had technical limitations.

7) Glassdoor and Indeed presence suggests they employ staff, not just a one-person operation. The concerns require charitable interpretation:

1) No Angi presence could mean they don't pay for that platform rather than being untrustworthy.

2) OSHA

owner (Eric)'. These are not vague complaints but specific, credible allegations that align with common contractor problems. 4) Solicitation Practices: A Nextdoor search result shows an employee advertising 'Free Roof Inspections', and the complaint pattern includes 'Door-to-door solicitation ignoring signs'. This can be an indicator of high-pressure sales tactics common in the storm-chasing roofing industry. 5) Data Gaps & Potential Evasion: Court record searches were partially blocked or inconclusive, and lien searches failed due to scraper errors. While not proof of wrongdoing, the inability to fully vet these areas leaves open the possibility of undisclosed judgments or financial issues. The positive signals (high review volume, BBB A+) are significant but must be weighed against the concrete inconsistencies and documented problems. The BBB A+ rating and accreditation, achieved very recently (1/28/2025), can sometimes be obtained by newer businesses that resolve a small number of complaints quickly, and inspection (ID 126107564) is common in construction and doesn't indicate violations were found. 3) The review analysis mentions complaint patterns about insurance disputes and aggressive communication - these are common in roofing/insurance work where contractors advocate for clients. 4) The business appears to have evolved from 'ABP Construction Services LLC' (Glassdoor) to 'ABP Construction LLC' (BBB) - this could explain some data inconsistencies. 5) Website claims 15 years experience while BBB shows 6 years - could include owner's personal experience before LLC formation. The most significant data gap is the lack of detailed complaint resolution history and the limited court search results due to technical errors. However, the BBB's A+ rating with no complaints suggests any issues were resolved satisfactorily.

Positive Factors:

N/A

does not negate the underlying issues.

Key Concerns:

Contradictory claims about years in business/establishment date (website vs. BBB)., Documented OSHA safety inspection and evidence of civil litigation., Specific complaint patterns regarding insurance disputes, quality, and owner conduct identified in review analysis., Evidence of door-to-door/solicitation marketing tactics, which can correlate with high-pressure sales.

Points of Agreement

N/A

Points of Disagreement

N/A

Section 3: Red Flags

MEDIUM Active OSHA inspection record (#126107564) indicates a workplace safety incident.

MEDIUM Mention of civil litigation involving 'ABP CONSTRUCTION SERVICES LLC AND ERIC CHATELAIN' in a legal database.

MEDIUM Pattern of customer complaints regarding insurance payment disputes and aggressive/unprofessional communication from the owner.

LOW Material inconsistency: Website claims '15 Years of Excellence' & est. 2016, but BBB reports founding date as 2019.

The gutters match perfectly, and the roof looks great. I will definitely refer ABP to my friends needing roofs. He also worked with the insurance adjuster which really helped get me the most money.", "text": "Recent Update - I'm now a repeat customer of ABP Construction, and I must reiterate my previous five-star review. They accomplished the most wonderful transformation of our front porch and accents (photos attached). I highly recommend ABP for your construction and roofing needs.\n\nWe worked with Eric to get a new roof on our home, and he was incredibly professional when helping us understand our insurance options. He was always easy to reach and very responsive to messages. His team arrived promptly, worked hard to get the job done in a timely manner, and they were relatively clean with their debris management. We are incredibly happy with the final product.\nDue to rain and soft dirt, the team's heavy equipment damaged some underground drainage alongside our driveway. Eric covered the cost of the repair without question, and this level of professional responsibility is greatly appreciated. We do plan on having him back out for additional home projects, and we highly recommend his company.",

With Eric's direction his team came out to my home replaced my wood siding and felt with Hardie board, Tyvec and insulation. His team worked effectively and efficiently to get the job done. It was a two day job and everyday they were done they cleaned up as if they weren't there before! The craftsmanship was exceptional and I'll be using them in the near future for projects! couldn't be happier with the entire experience. From the very first phone call, their team was professional, friendly, and responsive. They walked me through the entire process—from the inspection and estimate to choosing materials and scheduling the work—and made everything clear and stress-free.\n\nThe crew showed up right on time and worked efficiently while keeping the job site clean and safe.
It was clear they knew exactly what they were doing. The quality of the materials and the craftsmanship really impressed me—my new roof not only looks great but also feels solid and well-constructed. They even spotted and fixed some hidden issues (like damaged plywood under the shingles) without inflating the cost or cutting corners.\n\nWhat really stood out was their attention to detail and the respect they showed for my property. They made sure everything was cleaned up thoroughly once the job was done. The final result was exactly what I wanted—and the warranty they offer gives me even more peace of mind.\n\nIf you're looking for a reliable, honest, and skilled roofing company, I highly recommend ABP. They truly care about their work and their customers. A+ service all around!",

"text": "This is a very rare company , a company that really works for there customers and not just trying to make a buck. My wife and I have been trying to get our roof repaired for about 6 years and our insurance company, (State Farm) kept telling us that our roof didn't need to be replaced just patched up and that the cost would be less than our deductible so there was nothing they can do about it. We finally decided to leave that company and went to AAA very good ☐. Even though we were with State Farm for almost 20 years and had been with AAA For about a year ABP Construction was able to get us a NEW roof from the State Farm policy we had when we were with them and didn't have to pay no more than our deductible and ABP Construction gave us a discount on that. The work they did was very professional and quick and they cleaned up afterwards. They even recommended a company to replace our fence that needed to be replaced. The communication with the rep.wad always a good conversation and entertaining . I would recommend this company to anyone who needs work done on their roof . And if you're just trying to get some information about the whole roofing thing just give them a call and they will be glad to help you and talk with you ☺. I have NO complaints about the work that was done for me and I really enjoyed the visits with the rep.who talk with us about what was going to be happening once we decided to get the work done. Not only am I incredibly impressed with their quality of work, they are very knowledgeable of the industry and how to work with insurance. When I filed my claim with my insurance with some very clear hail damage, the insurance refused to replace it. Brad was a huge help by walking me through the process and letting me know what my rights were. He was even willing to get on the phone with my insurance agent and help me negotiate a settlement that I don't think I could have done on my own. What I was most impressed by with Brad and this company is that even though the insurance negotiated price was less than Brad's provided estimate, he was willing to take the price cut in order to make sure that I was able to get a new roof without having to supplement the remainder of the cost myself. They said that I should never have to pay more than my deductible, and they stayed true to their word. Running an honorable business and having the customer's interest as their priority is enough to win my business again. If I ever need any work on my roof in the future or even just advice, I know exactly who I'm going to call!",

  "text": "Have had the worst experience with this "company"...as others have said, Run! Would not recommend this "company" to my worst enemies because that would be giving them business. Partly my fault for not looking into their BBB complaints as I had similar experiences like others, where my insurance company paid them to replace or remove items pertaining to my roofing system and they did not. Instead, they cut corners and were going to keep the profit. But I myself am in the roofing world and after inspecting their work, found that they did not replace my drip edge or detach and reset my gutters, paint the drip edge like they were paid to do, left torn shingles and nail pops, did not caulk where the underlayment was laid over the drip edge (which needs to be done if underlayment is under the drip edge). Not only does my drip edge not match the fascia now but they only replaced the drip edge when I spoke up and said that I can only choose between black or grey (drip edge comes in many different shades). One of the many times I inspected the work I found that there was no caulking of the underlayment and drip edge by the "salesman" and owner straight up lied to me and tried to gaslight me saying that they did caulk it, the owner Eric told me he even had come out to my house and looked and when I told him I had cameras he must've changed his story at least twice. Eric comes out to my house and I had to show him myself that they had indeed not caulked above the drip edge. He then sends a subcontractor out to fix it only the subcontractor has no idea why he is there and speaks no English. He then does not caulk the entire perimeter like he is supposed to and leaves. I tell Eric this and Eric again gaslights me telling me that they did the entire perimeter to which I send pictures that they didn't...They had to come out at least half a dozen times. They use a subcontractor to do the work, meaning they do not even do their own work. It was a simple roofing job that took months to complete, and I was so involved, constantly inspecting their work. The subcontractors would show up unannounced and not close the gate in which our dog got out. I requested that CJ or Alex tell me when they were to come out, to which he said he would. But he, of course, did not. The subcontractors broke my solar lights and one of my in-ground sprinklers, damaged my rain diverters on my gutters, and most importantly, I was adamant that I wanted my rodent deterrent put back on the house and was told by CJ that they would. They never did. I had to get my pest control company out to put them back and, of course, pay to re-install the rodent deterrent. At first, CJ was friendly with me, but once I started complaining and having issues, CJ no longer wanted to deal with me. Mind you, he was not even there for 10 minutes the day I got my roof installed, which is why there were so many issues for one. CJ also made a supplement for double what my insurance paid on the claim, without my approval sent it, trying to get them to pay for things that I do not even have. Folks, insurance premiums go up because of thieving companies like this that try to get your insurance to pay for things that is unnecessary and they make off like bandits. It was such a bad experience that I told CJ and Eric both that I did not want them back out at my house to finish the work. They also have awful communication or memory because I must've said multiple times that I did not want them back out, and they acted like I never said that... even through text. This "company" also tried to have me pay for extra dump fees, to which my insurance already paid. With such an over-saturated market of roofers, you would think they wouldn't be so scandalous. The only thing I can think is that the positive reviews are by people that have no idea or experience with this. Everyone I know that has used them has said similar experiences. I'm still picking up trash that was left in my yard by the subcontractors...so much for leaving it better than you found it! Find a company that doesn't make you sign a contract!",

"text": "I just purchased a home with a 12 year old roof earlier this year, and I knew that I would have to replace the roof within the next couple of years. As many of us know the bipolar Texas weather, there were a couple of hail storms in the Flower Mound area this spring, and a nice young man from ABP Construction came to my door asking if he could check the roof for any hail damage. I am not a fan of door-to-door sales at all, but I was busy with work at home. I just said, \"Ok, sure. Have fun.\" Well, that roof check ended up leading me to work with ABP to get my roof replaced. Every person I worked with at ABP, especially Eric the owner, were very nice to work with. They helped with making the claim to my home insurance provider and getting the roof work scheduled and completed.\n\nAs someone who has never gone through the roof claim and replacement process, I had a lot of questions, and they were able to answer all of them and explain with clarity. I really appreciated that part the most. One other concern that I had was the amount of nails that would be on the property after the job. The roof workers and ABP did a great job sweeping as many nails up with their big magnet tools and cleaning up the perimeter. Of course, I still found several nails, but it wasn't that many. No flat tires or injuries after the job, which is great!\n\nOne thing that I hope Eric and the team would consider improving for future jobs is getting a more careful team of roof workers. I get that these workers are replacing roofs every day, and it takes a lot of hard labor and tons of elbow grease under the hot sun. My annoyance with them was that they were quite careless and reckless when throwing the shingles off the roof. They left some of my gutter guards misaligned, and they didn't seem to really care that it was left in that shape. Therefore, I had to realign several of them on one side of the roof. They threw so many shingles off of the roof haphazardly that they crushed one of my plants, damaged all of my patio furniture covers, and left several black streaks on the garage door. I had to clean up some of their mess basically. Thankfully, Eric reimbursed the new patio covers that I ordered to replace the damaged ones. Once again, I like working with Eric, and he takes his customers' satisfaction seriously.\n\nIn the end, I am grateful for the work that ABP did and how they helped me get my roof replaced. My hope for the future is that Eric and the team would be able to provide this constructive feedback to the roof workers and help them improve in better quality work.",
