Risk Level: HIGH

Recommendation: AVOID

No summary available.

Section 2: Three Persona Analysis

Consumer Advocate N/A Confidence: N/A Reasoning: The evidence presents a contractor with significant identity and operational confusion, coupled with a serious, active legal action. The primary concern is the active lawsuit filed by Denton County against 'Denton Pools, Inc.' (Case 25-10208-481). A government entity suing	Fair Arbiter N/A Confidence: N/A Reasoning: The analysis presents a mixed but cautiously optimistic picture. The most significant positive evidence is the existence of a legitimate, long-standing corporate entity. The Texas Franchise Tax search confirms 'DENTON POOLS INC' is a registered taxable entity (Taxpayer #32019613911),	Synthesizer N/A Reasoning: No dialectic audit data available. Stronger Case: N/A a contractor is a severe red flag, indicating potential breach of contract, non-performance, or financial disputes on a public project. This single data point outweighs the absence of other complaints. Furthermore, the business identity is unclear. The Google Maps HQ profile for 'Denton Pools Inc' shows a 3-star rating with only 2 reviews, suggesting minimal public presence. In contrast, the detailed review analysis references 'Gohlke Pools' with 835 reviews and a 4.9 rating. The Nextdoor search result for 'Swan Custom Pools, LLC' explicitly states, 'When Denton Pools, Inc. was sold to new ownership in 2009 I decided to start my own company.' This indicates the original 'Denton Pools Inc' may have been sold, and the current entity operating under that name is a different ownership. The website (dentonpools.com) returns a 403 Forbidden error, preventing verification of claims. The lack of a BBB profile, while not damning alone, combined with the lawsuit and identity indicating it has been operating legally and filing state taxes. This is a strong foundational signal of legitimacy. The absence of negative records is also notable: no BBB complaints, no OSHA violations, no EPA enforcement actions, no liens found (score 10/10), and no court cases discovered in four major North Texas counties despite searches. The lack of consumer complaints on major platforms (ANGI, HomeAdvisor, Trustpilot) and no news articles linking the company to scams are positive, though this could reflect low visibility. The primary red flag is the active civil lawsuit 'The County of Denton, Texas vs. Denton Pools, Inc.' found in Denton County court records. However, a charitable interpretation is that this could be a regulatory, permit, or contractual dispute with a government entity, which is qualitatively different from a pattern of consumer fraud. Businesses, especially in construction, occasionally have disputes with municipalities. The fact it's the only case found across multiple counties confusion, suggests a business that is not transparent or easily accountable. The absence of liens and other court cases is positive but does not mitigate the active county lawsuit.

Key Concerns:

Active lawsuit filed by Denton County, Texas against Denton Pools, Inc. (Case 25-10208-481). Government litigation is a major credibility issue., Severe business identity confusion. Evidence suggests the original 'Denton Pools Inc' was sold in 2009, and the current entity's lineage and ownership are unclear., Website (dentonpools.com) is inaccessible (403 Forbidden), preventing verification of any claims about licensing, insurance, or portfolio., Google Maps HQ profile shows minimal engagement (3 stars, 2 reviews), inconsistent with an established pool builder.

suggests it's an isolated issue, not a pattern of litigation. The review data is highly confusing and likely misattributed. The Google Maps Local search returned 835 reviews with a 4.9 rating, but the content explicitly references 'Gohlke Pools,' a different, well-reviewed Denton pool company. The Google Maps HQ profile for 'Denton Pools Inc' shows only 2 reviews and a 3-star rating, which is probably the correct, albeit sparse, profile. The detailed positive and negative reviews in the analysis sample are almost certainly for Gohlke Pools, not Denton Pools Inc. Therefore, we cannot rely on these reviews as evidence for or against Denton Pools Inc. The company has a website (dentonpools.com) and a Nextdoor presence, showing some community engagement. The Yelp snippet suggests a historical connection to 'Swan Custom Pools,' indicating the business or its principals have been in the local pool industry for decades, which is a positive signal of experience. The data confidence is moderate-low because the most relevant evidence (reviews) is contaminated, and we lack direct customer feedback, financial history, or detailed business records.

Section 3: Red Flags

HIGH

Active civil lawsuit filed by Denton County, Texas against the company. A government entity as plaintiff suggests serious contractual or regulatory failure.

MEDIUM

Business identity is unclear and opaque. Evidence suggests the original 'Denton Pools Inc' was sold in 2009; current online presence is minimal or incorrect.

Company website (dentonpools.com) returns a 403 Forbidden error, preventing verification of licenses, insurance, portfolio, or any claims.

From the first meet-and-greet to Matt and Connor checking in after completion, we are so thankful we chose Gohlke Pools.\n\nCommunication gets 100 stars!\nWe received regular email updates throughout the project with timelines and progress reports. Connor was extremely helpful with design ideas and changes, and Matt was always present-taking care of anything and everything promptly. Caden did a fantastic job with our "pool school" at the end. He was patient, answered every question, and genuinely wanted us to feel prepared.\n\nThe entire process was smooth, and they even finished ahead of schedule. We were also impressed with each subcontractor-the quality of their work and the respect they had for our property were outstanding. Subias, the recommended landscaper, was wonderful to work with, and Javier Subias was incredibly helpful in planning our outdoor design.\n\nAll in all, we were so impressed with Gohlke that we've decided to use them for our weekly service as well.\n\nTHANK YOU, GOHLKE POOLS, for making our experience so positive!", Gohlke came out numerous times to help but we finally decided to pull the band aid off and get a new filter pump. Albert had one on hand that had a 3 year warranty and was a variable speed and everything he needed to do the R&R on it. He helped educate me in the parts and the functioning and gave us a credit back on pump fixes already completed towards the price of the new one. Happy customers with a happy pool. The team was professional, responsive, and genuinely attentive to our vision and needs.\n\nThe design process was detailed and collaborative; they offered helpful suggestions while carefully listening to our preferences. Construction proceeded on schedule, and the workers were respectful, tidy, and efficient throughout the build.\n\nThe end result exceeded our expectations—the pool is beautifully crafted, high-quality, and exactly as envisioned. Their follow-up after completion has also been exceptional, ensuring we are fully satisfied and comfortable with our new pool.\n\nI highly recommend Gohlke Pools Connor, and Matt to anyone looking for a reliable, skilled, and customer-focused swimming pool builder.",

  "text": "Our pool project with Gohlke was an awful, exhausting and disappointing experience. I would not recommend this company to anyone - especially for a higher end project.\n\nThe majority of the work was done by subcontractors. Many of the subcontractors showed a complete lack of skill to do the work correctly. Gohlke did barely any quality control or checks on the subcontractors work. I continually found problems throughout the project and had to constantly escalate issues because the Gohlke project manager did not seem to care.\n\nGohlke chose a contractor they never worked with before to build my pool house. The subcontractor hung the windows upside down, the doors were hung wrong and would not shut correctly, the exterior trim was warping within a month of install, and the interior trim and drywall were done incorrectly. Gohlke never checked his work even though they had never worked with him before. Gohlke continued to give the subcontractor a chance to fix his work but the contractor had no idea what he was doing. After the third attempt to fix his mistakes and still getting the work wrong, I had to ask him to leave because Gohlke would not find someone else to fix his bad work.\n\nThe operations manager from Gohlke would constantly apologize to me that Gohlke would correct the problems and that the project would be a priority for him. It was all lip service and nothing changed throughout the project. The salesperson / designer dropped off the project after the project kickoff meeting and we barely ever heard from him again even with all of the problems that were occurring.\n\nIn addition to this, I have an expensive fire pit that I need to light with a BBQ lighter because the starter is junk, cracks all over the place on the concrete pool deck, and tile work that looks like it was done by someone who does not know what they are doing. I was so burnt out and exhausted at the end of this project that I didn't even care and was unwilling to argue with them anymore.\n\nGohlke worked towards the milestone payments that were part of the contract. There would be a bunch of work that would occur before each milestone payment. Once we paid Gohlke, work would immediately come to a crawl with little to no activity happening for weeks afterwards. This occurred consistently with each payment. After the final payment, Gohlke's project manager disengaged from us even though there were a lot of open items left to finish the project. We stopped getting updates and I had to continually ask what was happening and remind him that an issue was still outstanding. The remaining items took months to get finished and I found it necessary to finish work myself because it was moving so slow.",

  "text": "Excellent experience with Gohlke!\n\nMaking the decision to build a pool is a huge decision and a large financial commitment. Choosing the company to help you realize your dream is monumental. After reading hundreds of reviews and searching for guidance on "How to choose your pool builder", most people said they received 8-10 quotes before making the decision. I however, did a lot of research up front. I only received 2 quotes and both companies provided a dollar amount within $2K of each other. I then requested their contractual agreements and read all of the fine print. There were subtle differences but the contracts were also very comparable. My choice was Gohlke and here is why.

Gohlke has History! They have been in business for over half a century AND they still have family members in the game.

Gohlke has certifications in the pool industry, not only as a builder but also a maintenance and repair service company.

Gohlke is a member of the Denton Chamber of Commerce - they are part of and invest in their community. Gohlke has a 4.9 out of 5 rating with 750+ Google reviews that span time and are also up to date. Gohlke is solid.

Now, let's talk people.

Connor Gohlke (sales/design): This guy knows the business. He is a swimmer and grew up in the business. He exudes a quiet confidence that makes you comfortable. He knows pools, the build, the designing, the materials. He answers questions competently, he is courteous and personable.

Matt Watson (Project Manager) : Again, quiet confidence, and he knows pools and how to build them. He is responsive and responsible. He knows his crews and he communicates! You will receive consistent updates on progress and scheduling and he is responsive to questions. Matt did an excellent job.

Nathan Caldwell (Construction Superintendent) : Super guy, very knowledgeable. Only met him for the construction kick-off. He was thorough in going over the details of the design but we didn't need him after that as Matt did an awesome job!

Construction crews: If you are a bit nerdy like me and my husband, you will enjoy watching the progress. Each crew performs their specialty and it is fascinating to watch! Additionally, none of the crews were trashy. They did a good job of picking up their messes.

We feel like our decision to go with Gohlke was absolutely the right choice!", Wes was able to take our ideas and bring them to life through the design process and Matt diligently oversaw the project from start to finish. "text": "I cannot say enough great things about my experience with Gohlke Pools!! This is the 5th pool I have built and by far the best experience from beginning to end. I think the one word that I would use to describe Gohlke is Trust. From the beginning I felt Connor heard what I was looking for and included all my ideas. They understood my budget and they were honest with how they could meet it. When it came to the building process from permits, ground breaking and all other major milestones they were always available and on top of things. There was no long term gaps in getting the next crew out whether it was excavation, plumbing, electrical(the best), gunite through final walkthrough.\n\nI highly recommend Nicholas, my project manger. He was absolutely the best! He is someone that takes personal ownership in your satisfaction and he is incredibly respectful. He always showed up, he was completely transparent about the process and when I contacted him he immediately responded. He also followed up after everything was finished and made sure every detail was met to my satisfaction.

He is a great asset to Gohlke Pools!\n\nLastly, Gohlke Pools has great follow up and support after you make the final payment. They don't ignore you after all is done. I realized I had a drainage issue after the heavy rains we had and they were here the next day working on the solution. They ensured I was satisfied and as soon as it rained Nicholas reached out to make sure everything was OK.\n\nThere are many factors one should consider when choosing a pool builder and I was extremely picky and detailed about my selection process since it is such a big investment and my previous experience with my other pool builders. I can tell you with 100% honesty that Gohlke was the right decision and I would choose them again! I have also personally recommended them to many others, which I haven't done with my previous pool builders.\n\nI don't think the pictures do their work justice, but they built my personal resort!", Ms. Emilyn Bell provided excellent information and answered all questions presented. Without hesitation, we signed up for the next available class. Additional information was provided on Gohlke's complimentary Pool School. Our HOA scheduled the complimentary Pool School within four days of the initial inquiry. Mr. Logan Eddleman conducted the Pool School for both our HOA President and Pool Coordinator. Logan was punctual, very knowledgeable in pool systems, and took his time in answering all our questions regarding our pool equipment, as well as offering some great suggestions on carrying out future preventative maintenance as well as daily cleaning and chemical testing. Should out to Dustin, Bryan, Christian, Logan, and others. Always answer my questions and even my texts with questions or issues outside of hours like how to divert hot water to the spa on a new system when I had company over at 8. It's not often you spend this much on a product/service and have everything go without a hitch. Connor Gohlke was great to work with. Low key, no hard sell, no up sell. Just, what is it that you want? Let's make that happen at a reasonable price. We signed the contract 8 months before we could start. There was a clause stating if materials went up we might be required to more. If we weren't happy, we could get out of the contract. When it was time to build prices had increased but I was surprised at how little the increase was. Very honest. When they got started, we had Matt, Billie, and Nathan as our build team. Matt communicated with us and made sure we got a great pool. They are the best. No surprises, no hidden fees/addenda. Just top quality at a fair price.", 2023.\n\nEvery person we worked with from design to the finished product was helpful, informative, professional, and a pleasure to work with. We highly recommend Gohlke if you're considering building a pool in the DFW area.\n\nWes Gohlke designed our pool. Wes is very skilled and easy to work with. Every detail was discussed with us. He was so patient with us as first-time pool builders with no pool care experience. He looked out for us. There were times when he steered us toward a different or better option; he was more concerned with our happiness with the final product than making a bigger sale. The pool is exactly the classic beauty we wanted and it will still be beautiful 25 years from now because of the care Wes put into our design.\n\nOur project manager on site was Nicholas Pisciotta. He took Wes' design and made it a reality. Day in and day out he skillfully managed crews and subcontractors and scheduled inspections. His deep knowledge of every part of the build process was obvious and impressive. He was sometimes the person standing back, watching to make sure things went as planned. Other times, he was hands on doing whatever needed to be done. His communication was excellent. He kept us informed through every stage and quickly answered our calls or texts if he wasn't on site. He was so calm and reassuring and helped us enjoy the building process. We could not have asked for a better person to oversee the construction of our pool.\n\nGohlke's team – their own staff and the subcontractors they work with – are all the very best. Professionals who worked on our pool or in our yard were clearly well trained and carefully selected.\n\nCritical components of our build – engineering, design, excavation, gunite, plumbing, tile and brick work, installation of stone pavers, the construction of a steel shade structure, drainage, and the addition of a small outdoor kitchen island – were all impressive. Our city's inspector commented to us that he had not seen such fine work in a very long time.\n\nEven though extreme heat in August slowed work on our build, Gohlke still completed our pool in the time frame promised (under 4 months from dig to fill).\n\nBecause of our outstanding experience, we've already recommended Gohlke Pools many times to others considering building a pool in DFW. And we'll continue to work with Gohlke by having them maintain the chemicals in our new pool.\n\nWe're so proud of the beautiful pool Gohlke built for us.", they were great from start to finish. When it came time to get our 20 year old pool replastered, we knew exactly who to contact. Our 20 year old white plaster was worn thin. Our tile had 20 years of deposit build up. Our mastic was non existent. And there were some rust spots from some rebar that was too shallow in the original gunite. Working with Eli was great as we planned out all the options for the project. Bill stayed on top of the project and kept us completely informed from start to finish. Travis did an amazing job replacing our mastic! Joe and Luke came every day after startup to make sure the water was balanced and the pool was interviewed dozens of contractors and we're given quotes all over the spectrum.\n\nWe knew Gohlke was first class before we met them, but every step of the process was five stars. From the design, the follow up time between phases of the project and the quality was thorough. When we tell people that it was less than four months from excavation to completion they're in disbelief. Gohlke delivers!\n\nTwo people that really stood out. Our design consultant, Wes, spent hours making sure our pool was exactly what we were looking for from a Swim Lane for our daughter to a Sunledge to a spa and the perfect play area. He's an incredible designer and has a lot of patience. :)\n\nMatt was our project lead.

He'll bring the magic to life. His frequent communications, text messages and emails. We never felt in the dark or wondering what's next. Incredibly personable and very knowledgeable. You're gonna be in great hands if Matt is your project lead.\n\nOverall, Gohlke is a first class experience! They do high quality work in an efficient manner, and make sure that you're informed every step of the way. You pay more but it's true... YOU GET WHAT YOU PAY FOR.", a company that had won multiple awards over the years I wouldn't give them mine.

Their maintenance program, repairs and any upgrades are twice as high as other companies.\nIn June we made it very clear that we were selling our house and needed them to stay on top of our pool. Well, they didn't. Pool started turning green and started getting mold spots. On top of that when we hired a new pool company, they said that they hadn't cleaned our tank and filters in a long time.\nGohlke no need to reach out to me unless you're giving us a credit back for your poor, poor service.",

What our builder neglected to tell us was how weird it would make our roof line.\n\nWe reached out to Gohlke for help and they were fast, friendly, and professional. They met with us for a consultation and then made up some 3d renders of what it would look like to help us visualize what the end product would look like.\n\nWe also had some concrete decking put in and realized about halfway into the process that we wanted to add another retaining wall to our backyard and flatten out the hill that was keeping us from using much of the backyard. Gohlke contracts with a landscaping firm that is also a pleasure to work with. They were able to flatten out the yard and added another retaining wall that perfectly matched the original one. It looks like they were both installed at the same time.\n\nThe awning they built for us was a challenge because of the wacky roof line, but they were able to get it installed. This was all during the hottest summer we've had in recent memory and they were still polite and professional the whole time. Jesse, Jeremiah, Sam and Cory were fantastic builders.\n\nConnor and Bill were wonderful project managers and kept me in the loop at every stage and reacted quickly to any whims we had with the design.\n\nIf I ever have another project done like this it will definitely be another Gohlke team doing it. I heartily endorse them for anyone thinking of having any work done in their backyard.",

I've always known that when you find great customer service mixed with a great product, it's a win for everyone. Pablo answered all my questions quickly and accurately with pictures, sizes, dimensions, etc. as needed for our patio team to build the proper area for the hot tub - footer base, electrical needs, location, etc. and then navigated around us for the delivery and installation timing. Korbin and his team worked around other patio crews and also with our project manager directly to ensure that everything was just perfect with the install. "text": "Matt Gohlke. Gohlke Pools built my pool past summer. Started off on the wrong foot because the sales guy boasted they were one of the few companies that use all 1/2\" rebar. Rebar is getting installed and not all the rebar was 1/2\" and not installed per what was contract as he boasted about. There was also an area that didnt look secure. I have a ME degree but not a rebar guy so I asked, is this right? The rebar company owner shows up the next morning to inspect and agreed is was not right and fixed both concerns right away. Base material for the travertine deck was called out on the contract. A truck shows up with the wrong material, no project manager on site so I turned them way. I called the project manager and let him know I had a specific material called out on the contract he said he would make it right. I then went on a week long vacation when they installed the deck, had cameras on the job site, not very high resolution so couldn't see what materials were installed. I could see method of installation, they did not compact the dirt prior to installing the base which is industry standard, confirmed by 3 paving companies. They installed the base over clumps of dirt, trash and debris. Matt's reply to this was the dirt has been there for decades, my house was built in 2015 and the pool gets a little over 4ft from the house, regardless to ensure a stable paving job you start with a strong base. He pretty much said live with it, I asked for some kind of remedy, I asked for a warranty in writing and they agreed but never got one, I have a recording of him agreeing. I asked them to guarentee their work for 5 years, if there was movement greater that 1/2 they come fix it as I understand most paving jobs set on a dry base will have some movement. but shouldn't more more that 1/2\" in 5 years. As I did more research into code and proper installation methods for inground pools I found for safety and cleanliness the deck is supposed to slope away from the pools edge, so rain doesn't wash dirt in and water doesn't puddle making it slippery and people fall in. The pool was installed 2\" lower than it should have been. Being close to the house and next to an existing concrete patio there was no way to fix this. I also have 2 out of 3 deck drains that water just flows around. I have pictures of all of this for anyone who is thinking of using Gohlke. The deck was uneven so I asked them to fix it, the first couple of times they used a grinder to \"level\" it. The deck is dry set not mortared in place, all the paving companies I contacted said they should have lifted the travertine paver adjusted the top lay of sand and reset the paver. Now you can see where they used a grinder because it changed the finish. On top of all that they were supposed installed a safety fence but forgot. Typically they are installed in a 4\"-6\" concrete deck, this was discussed before we contacted and they said they would widen the pool \"beam\" that circles the entire pool on the half where the fence was going to be installed, that didnt happen. So they were planning on installing it just in the 1 1/2\" stone just sitting on sand. They had the installer come out to install it, he started drilling and noticed there was no concrete and didnt feel comfortable. Gohlke came out to install the 4\" of concrete under a single paver, I explained to the laborer that a wide deck of concrete functions very differently than a 6\" x 4\" deep peice of concrete and it need to be closer to 8\" to 12\" deep to even get close to the same capacity. He didnt listen or was told not to I should say and the fence was installed.", Recent storm, when I was not home, security cameras revealed the wind blew over two porch chairs and the rain cover off grill. As it was Gohlke's day to service the pool, I called Emily and she notified our pool tech Brandon Johnson. After cleaning the pool Brandon picked up and installed the grill cover and set the chairs up! Thank you Emily and Brandon for over the top service!", cleaned weekly by Triston & Connor, who've been doing a phenomenal job; the pool & spa always look pristine, they're very good about communicating any changes or issues, and are VERY RELIABLE & RESPECTFUL. We were also assigned a person that oversees the equipment maintenance, Evan, who is always going above & beyond to make sure we have a hassle-free pool experience. Their service techs are very communicative and will go over and above to help where they can. Jason has been our equipment tech and he's always a straight shooter, never selling us more than what we need when we bought a house with aging equipment, even recommending to wait on replacing a filter until after the winter season instead of just selling us a new one because he could. The 4.9 rating with 835 reviews is credible given the detailed content. The significant discrepancy with the Google Maps HQ profile (3★, 2 reviews) is likely due to a duplicate, incorrect, or inactive business listing. The primary negative complaint pattern revolves around subcontractor quality control and communication issues, which are common, credible grievances in the contracting industry.
